signified L. M. Mills to fill the vacancy. Mills in practically the founder of the organization and was elected the first secretary and served as the second pensident of the order inter on. The charges preferred against McCauley were incompetency and a failure to keep a correct record of the business of the order. A committee was appointed come time ago to examine the records and submitted a report that everything was meaningted that it had to discontinue its investigations. MoCauley was then advised to resign, but he continued in office until the board decirted to remove him. A committee composed of Warren Y. Bareley, W. F. Blake and E. A. Stowe from Post E. the local organization, appeared before the board and extended an invitation to hold the mext annual convention in this city in December, but it was decided to hold the mext annual convention in the city in December, but it was decided to hold the state convention should be conferred upon some other city. Mills, the new secretary was selected from this city it was thought the honor of entertaining the state convention should be conferred upon some other city. Mills, the new secretary, is a traveling salesman for the Hazeltine & Perkins Drug Company of this city and is very popular with the traveling fraternity throughout the state.

There was a large number of friends of the bride and groom present, smong them Dr. and Mrs. Fair. The young couple received many useful and pretty presents. A number of friends from Mushegon attended the ceremony, and letters of congratulation were received from friends and relatives in Sweden. After the ceremony a wedding suppor was served.

Tramps continue to linger around the immediate vicinity of North street on the west side, using the side-tracked boxcars for protection from rain storms during the daytime and eleeping apartments at night. On Friday a newsboy with papers, when passing along the track was pounced upon by a gang of seven of these worthless vagabonds who held him up for a paper each before they would let him go. It has long been the rendesvous for the tramp element and no one is absolutely safe in passing in that vicinity alone and unprotected after dark. Something should be done to drive them from their convenient hiding place.

RUNS ON BANKS.

Every Milwaukee Institution Made to Suffer for the Plankinton.

MILWAUKER, June 3. -Runs are being made on all the banks in the city, in a greater or lesser degree. The small depositors, always timid and easily alarmed, have taken fright at the Plankington bank failure and have disregarded the causes of that failure, which to business men represents only the careless and foolbardy speculations of one men.

The bankers of this city see no use for alarm, and feel that the temporary fear with which the small depositors are at present possessed will soon pass away. There is no general alarm of misgivings and it may be said that be youl its undoubted effect on small business concerns, the Plankinton bank failure will have no serious results. No statement of the affairs of that institution has as yet been prepared. tion has as yet been prepared.

ded Bergeiss in Watches - A Spir did Opportunity to Buy One.

Zierlyn & Carstone, No. 89 Monroe street, are making a decidedly pretty window display. The goods represented in the exhibit are all desirable articles, and an inspection is well worth making. Some of the principal features are a collection of white oyax French clocks and a few specimens of rich silverwars. The great attraction in the window, though, is the many watches exhibited. They are a genuine bargain. They are full jeweled, American movement and Ducher gold filled case, warranted twenty years, and are now being sold at $17 each. This is a rare bargain, as the former price was $25.

By all odds the largest musical emporium in western Michigan is that located at Nos. 30 and 32 Canal street, and owned by Julius A. J. Friedrich. Mr. Friedrich and his mammoth stock are too well known in this city to need an introduction, but to those who have just come to the city to reside it would not be amine to say that if you wish a musical instrument of any description or musical sundries of any nature, you cannot obtain better prices or goods in western Michigan than at Mr. Friedrich's.
